

SECONDARY CHARACTERS

These characters help the main character (HERO) and sometimes even cause a problem for the Hero.

The Sidekick(s):

Sidekicks are allies to the Hero. That means they are friends. Sidekicks are funny and present a comic element to the story. Sidekicks are good for helping the Hero out, especially if they are in trouble. Villains tend to have sidekicks too.

The Mentor:

The Mentor is usually an older or wiser character. Mentors are good teachers or coaches for the Hero. Mentors help the Hero in their times of need. Mentors share their wisdom and sometimes secrets to help the Hero change in the story.

The Villain:

The Villain is the Antagonist. This means a villain is the bad guy or girl. Villains are usually just as smart or strong as the Hero. Villains are a challenge for the Hero. Villains represent a conflict or problem in the story. Villains also have flaws and weaknesses.

Who could be your hero's sidekick?

Who could be your hero's mentor?

Who could be your hero's villain?

SECONDARY CHARACTERS

List at least 3 things to describe the other characters in the story. Consider names, appearance and special skills.

Side Kick(s)

Mentor

Villain

Others